

New Page

I'll quickly verify the full list of Bricks Builder custom-theme CSS variables so the themes are complete, then write them.

Verified against the official Bricks docs — the variable list you posted is the complete Bricks 2.x starter set, so every theme below overrides all of them (nothing left inheriting light values).

How to use

1. Bricks → Settings → Builder → Builder Mode → Custom → Save.
2. Paste one file's contents into the Builder Mode (Custom) code field → Save.
3. Reload the builder.

Only one `[data-builder-mode=custom]` block can be active at a time, so keep these as separate files and swap the one you want.

The set

File	Vibe	Accent
<code>warm.css</code>	Coffee/ember dark, low blue light	Amber <code>#f0a04b</code>
<code>purple.css</code>	Deep violet, matches your light theme's accent	Violet <code>#b47cff</code>
<code>midnight.css</code>	Navy blue-black	Blue <code>#4d8dff</code>
<code>forest.css</code>	Dark moss green	Green <code>#56d17a</code>
<code>ocean.css</code>	Deep teal	Cyan <code>#2fd4d4</code>
<code>carbon.css</code>	Neutral grey, no color cast	Blue <code>#4c9aff</code>
<code>oled.css</code>	True-black monochrome, max contrast	White <code>#f4f4f5</code>
<code>rose.css</code>	Dark plum / rose	Pink <code>#ff6f9c</code>
<code>cyberpunk.css</code>	Near-black + neon	Neon cyan <code>#00f0ff</code>
<code>dracula.css</code>	Dracula palette	<code>#bd93f9</code>
<code>nord.css</code>	Nord palette, soft & muted	<code>#88c0d0</code>
<code>gruvbox.css</code>	Retro warm-earth	<code>#fabd2f</code>

Notes & tips for rolling your own

- Surface ramp: `--builder-bg` is the darkest base, then `-2`, `-3`, `-4` get progressively lighter (panels → inputs → hover/active). Keep 6–10% lightness steps or the UI flattens out.
- Tooltips invert: on dark themes set `--bricks-tooltip-bg` to your light text color and `--bricks-tooltip-text` to your base bg — that's why every file above flips them relative to your light example.
- `--builder-color-accent-inverse` is the text drawn on top of the accent. Bright/pastel accents (`#fabd2f`, `#cba6f7`, `#00f0ff`) need a dark inverse; deep saturated accents ( #268bd2) need #fff.

- Placeholder opacity: .33 reads fine on light backgrounds but disappears on dark — .38–.4 is the sweet spot.
- Bricks caveat: in custom builder mode the Code element's editor switches to a light color scheme, regardless of how dark the rest of your theme is. Nothing in these variables changes that.
- Want a variant? Take any file, keep the status/class/component pairs, and only shift the four --builder-bg* values plus --builder-color-accent — that's 90% of a theme's identity.
